

Whitley Penn's professionals have the depth of experience to advise physician-based facilities, practices and groups of any size. We provide services to multi-location healthcare systems, senior living groups, surgical centers, physical therapy centers, dental groups as well as sole practitioners with growing practices. We have been embedded in the healthcare industry from the earliest days of our firm and understand the business and economics of healthcare.

The Evolution of Healthcare

We understand the challenges healthcare organizations face as our nation's healthcare system continues to evolve. While Accountable Care Organizations (ACO) are marked to be the pioneer of healthcare integration and delivery, there are many other players that have a key role, such as Medical Homes, Health Information Exchanges (HIE), Electronic Health Records (EHR), Independent Physician Associations (IPA), Health Insurance Exchange markets, and healthcare service companies.

As the convergence of fee for service (FFS) to pay for performance (PFP) meet, it will be extremely important to monitor and manage the revenue cycle, payer mix, operational expenses, and increased compliance costs in order to maximize profitability. Our professionals understand the importance of monitoring the financial metrics of healthcare organizations and providing consulting to meet the changing demands.

Assurance and Advisory Services

Our firm conducts financial statement audits for hospitals, hospital groups, urgent care facilities, hospice facilities, home healthcare agencies, senior living groups, healthcare service companies, dental practices, physician practices, durable medical equipment companies, pharmaceutical companies, and various other healthcare related entities. Our experience includes working with companies who collect a majority of their revenues from Medicaid and Medicare reimbursements. As such, we understand the issues involved.

The audits we perform are normally required by the entities' banking relationship or at the request of the owner. We consult with our clients that plan to sell in the future to ensure the audit needs are met prior to the date the company plans to sell. We also have significant experience working with companies owned by private equity groups.

Other assurance services include agreed-upon procedures, due diligence support, internal audit services, SSAE 16 services, employee benefit plan audits, and general consulting and advisory services.
