

AGRICULTURE

We recognize that businesses operating within the agriculture industry often encounter a wide range of operational and regulatory considerations. Located in the Southwest, Whitley Penn works with farming, ranching, and agribusiness organizations across Texas and surrounding regions. Our proximity to agricultural communities and our experience working with agriculture-focused clients help inform the guidance we provide.

Sustaining a successful agriculture business can be complex, especially for multi-generational organizations managing changing markets, compliance requirements, and long-term planning. We support clients across the agricultural supply chain by offering services designed to meet current needs while helping organizations prepare for future challenges.

How We Can Serve You:

Audit Services

- Financial statement audits tailored to agriculture operations
- Support for private companies and multi-generational organizations
- Risk-focused assurance services that promote transparency and confidence

Tax Services

- Federal, state, and local tax compliance and planning
- Structuring and planning support for family-owned and multi-generational businesses
- Ongoing guidance intended to help organizations navigate tax complexity and regulatory change

Your Future is Our Focus

Advisory Services

- Strategic and operational advisory services to support growth and long-term sustainability
- Financial and business planning support across the agriculture supply chain
- Guidance to help organizations navigate change, manage risk, and plan for future needs

Contact an Advisor to Get Started

Breanna Oakley, CPA

Tax Partner

Breanna.Oakley@whitleypenn.com

Brittany Flemming, CPA

Client Accounting & Advisory Services Partner

Brittany.Flemming@whitleypenn.com

Learn more:

